R.A.F. Planes Hit Important Nazi Targets

Electric Power Stations, Oil Refineries, Aircraft Factories, Rail Junctions and Ports Are Bombed

By SIDNEY J. WILLIAMS

British Ultra Force, Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Four "terrific explosions" rocked the northwest suburbs of Berlin during an attack by strong Royal Air Force squadrons on machinery and munitions factories, electric stations, oil plants and other objectives in Germany, the air ministry said today.

Visits City Today

HON. C. G. POWER, Federal Minister for Air, who will arrive in Edmonton Wednesday afternoon to inspect the Air Force Training centre here and to confer with representative citizens on questions pertaining to Canada's war effort.

Few German Planes Able To Penetrate Defences Of London During Daylight Raids—Five Warnings Sounded

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Squadron after squadron of Nazi warplanes flew to the attack on London today, but Royal Air Force fighters gave them battle and turned back each succeeding wave.

The air ministry announced early tonight that all attacks "have been intercepted and broken up by our fighters".

A few of the German planes managed to penetrate London's defenses and drop bombs, but no serious fatalities.

Five air raid warnings from dawn to dusk kept London in an almost continuous state of alarm.

At times a great deal of incendiary planes could be heard, but always to the accompaniment of heavy anti-aircraft fire. Central London escaped, thanks either to the fierce ground defence or to the fact that it was not an objective today.

The first three alarms in the morning, one shortly after noon and still another later in the day, followed by an evening announcement by the air ministry that "reports so far received show that almost all the incendiary bombs have been shot down and 'one of our fighters is missing'".

At times, German long range guns on the French side of the channel shelled Dover, damaging houses and causing a number of casualties.

Lead Tigers To Opening Win

Detroit Tigers got away to an impressive start in the 1940 world series by soundly trouncing Cincinnati Reds, National League champions, on their home lot today. Two of those who played major roles in the victory were Buck Newsum, left, above, who pitched a masterful game, and Bruce Campbell, right, who hit a home run in the fifth inning with Rudy York on base.

Tigers Win Opener By 7-2 Score

Detroit ... 7-2 Cincinnati ... 2-7

Newsum and Sullivan: Detroit; Newsum, Middle and Wilson, Baker.

CROSLBY FIELD, CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—Detroit's American League champions kept eight Cincinnati batters behind the tight pitching of Buck Newsum today to defeat Cincinnati Reds, 7-2, in the first game of the 1940 world series before 31,793 fans.

The Tigers put the game on fire in the second with a five-hit, five-run blast, when slug Paul Derringer, Reddy, and batters in the showers, and then added two more in the fifth against the rallying back of Hugh Bennett.

White Detroit was inching its 10 hits to the lead advantage, Newsum kept eight Cincinnati batters well out of the fourth when Gamble doubled and came home on Ruppel's single, and in the eighth when, Werber doubled and scored on Goodman's one-batter.

Following is the play-by-play description of the game.

FIRST INNING

TIGERS.—Werber worked the first two into the left field and then went down swinging. McClellan lifted a high fly to Ruppel in short left. Ruppel caught it. Derringer's curve ball lifted a foul fly in the left field stands, and the ball grounded out, Derringer to F. McClellan.

NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS, ONE OUT.

SECOND INNING

TIGERS.—Greening smashed the first two into the left field corner but was held to one run by Ruppel's magnificent throw to McClellan. Ruppel's throw to McClellan's glove and Greening started for third but was forced to slide back to second base by Goodman's return throw. Campbell laid a sacrifice bunt down the third base line but was safe as first when Werber's

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—Further expansion of the Royal Canadian Navy by acquisition of 15 large auxiliary vessels was announced today by Navy Minister Macdonald.

The vessels were acquired for conversion into anti-submarine patrol vessels, the minister told newsmen gathered in his office for a press conference.

The new additions to Canada's fleet have been named after Canadian animals. They carry the names of the new vessels are: Elk, Vixen, Plover, Fox, Mink, Beaver, Cougar, Moose, Otter, Caribou, Raccoon, Grizzly, Reindeer, Lynx, Wolf and Seal.

CHAMBERLAIN RESIGNATION IS IMMINENT

Lloyd George May Be Called To Post In Churchill Cabinet

By J. F. ANDERSON

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The resignation of Neville Chamberlain, leader of the council, from the Churchill government on the grounds of ill-health, is imminent and may be announced tonight or tomorrow, it was reported in political circles today.

The resignation of the former premier has been the subject of much speculation since Mr. Churchill last May would likely involve several government departments.

It is believed possible that David Lloyd George, Britain's white-haired political veteran who led the nation through the critical years of the first Great War, may return to office in some advisory capacity.

Almost from the day he resigned, there has been a persistent drive in force Mr. Chamberlain from public life because of the failure of his "Munich policy" and his general handling of the first six months of the war.

Political sources claim Mr. Chamberlain will retire when he is asked to resign as prime minister, but he is expected to stay in office at the insistence of Mr. Churchill.

These sources also claim he approached the Prime Minister in London in the past four months and offered to resign but was persuaded to stay.

In recent weeks, however, Mr. Chamberlain's health has not been good and he is under an abnormal strain of operation. He has recovered sufficiently to return to his ministerial duties and is believed to have found the strain of wartime work too taxing for his strength.

Farmers Allowed To Give Wheat As Supplies' Security

Trade Department Announces Broader Policy To Ease Financial Burden Of Grain Growers—Wheat Lawful Credit

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—A plan was announced today by Trade Minister MacKinnon whereby prairie farmers may deliver wheat to merchants, wholesalers, suppliers and others as security against farmers' accounts with such merchants.

Under the plan the merchant will become the warehouseman for the farmer and later deliver the wheat to the elevator in the farmer's name as elevator space becomes available.

The minister said there was a misconception, according to many reports reaching him, that because of the present delivery quota there was no wheat on the prairies merchants would not be able to take wheat this year and later deliver it to the elevators.

FREQUENT PRACTICE

In former years it was frequently the practice in the west for farmers to give security the credit by delivering wheat to his creditor but this year considerable uncertainty about the future of the wheat delivery quota of eight bushels an acre in cropped areas has been the cause of the practice.

The basic wage for coal miners is established at 50 cents an hour, except for certain underground jobs where who get 45 cents an hour and those who work on the long wall get 40 cents an hour.

Machine men on the long wall get 45 cents an hour. Boys from 16 to 19 years of age are paid 25 cents an hour.

MINIMUM WAGE

Before the order was made, the minimum wage for miners above and below ground ranged at low as 33-1/2 cents an hour.

The minimum wage scale provides for an eight-hour day for all employees excepting and hours worked in excess of eight shall be paid for at the rate of time and a half.

Where less than four hours is worked, the minimum wage of 50 cents an hour shall be paid and the above shall be paid for a full four hours of time.

BOARD LODGING

Where board and lodging is supplied to the employee, rates which may be charged by the employer for board and lodging shall be paid for board and 25 cents each for lodging.

The order is effective from October 1, 1940.

ABANDON PLAN OF STRONGHOLD ON MARTINIQUE

PORT DE FRANCE, Martinique, Oct. 2.—Plans for a further war on military fortifications for this French island possession, which have been abandoned, said today.

Some of the work had been started before the war broke out and was begun after the armistice.

These plans included the building of a dyke and a pier which would be used for military purposes. Work on these, officials said, was stopped because of the war.

Martiniques officials professed to be "greatly shocked" that British authorities have decided to build a new base on the island.

British officials at St. John's said the French had been asked to build a new base on the island, but they had refused.

INVASION OFF SHORE OF HIGH SOURCES

Military Circles Say Zero Hour For Hun Attack Has Passed

By DREW MIDDLETON

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Military circles in Britain continue to insist that the invasion of this country is still a possibility, but that the zero hour has passed.

The five British of men arrested last week were charged with sabotage.

The three of invasion, it was thought, would keep the home front—excluding some of the world's most powerful battlefields—from any attack to fight Italy in the Mediterranean.

Unofficial British sources said that the invasion of this country is still a possibility, but that the zero hour has passed.

The five British of men arrested last week were charged with sabotage.

The three of invasion, it was thought, would keep the home front—excluding some of the world's most powerful battlefields—from any attack to fight Italy in the Mediterranean.

Unofficial British sources said that the invasion of this country is still a possibility, but that the zero hour has passed.

OCT. 6 TO 12
IS FIRE WEEK
FOR DOMINION

Prevention Of Loss Of Life, Property, Is Being Stressed

Drawing attention once again to the tremendous losses of both life and property suffered through fire in Canada each year, the governor-general has by proclamation designated the period of October 6 to October 12, inclusive, as Fire Prevention Week.

Last year fire claimed the lives of 263 men, women and children in the Dominion. Of this total, 73 were children in the year 1939, while 1938 exacted an even greater toll, 118 children suffering fatal burns.

Scientific studies of fires over a lengthy period, however, conclusively that more than 80 per cent of all fires are preventable.

Not only is the loss through death and serious injury an appalling one, but material damages are staggering.

In the last 10 years more than $726,000,000 worth of property has been destroyed by fire in Canada.

The government of Canada and the dominion fire commissioner are asking for the co-operation of every citizen of the country to combat the fire menace, particularly with a war demanding still

For this reason Fire Prevention Week should be devoted to serious thinking concerning fire prevention. Public bodies and organizations of all kinds are asked to mention fire prevention during the week.

RABBI I. HAFT
Greets Friends at New Year

October 2, 1940

The past year has, without a doubt, been one of the most history of the Jewish people.
Jewish communities, which have existed for many centuries and have made rich and lasting contributions to the many fields of human endeavour in their respective countries, have met with a tragic fate.

At this moment, world
Jewry is a very active participant in the titanic struggle against Hitlerism and the barbarism and brutality that it stands for, a struggle which overwhelms all problems and difficulties of a personal nature.
On the Eve of this New
Year, it is my fervent hope and prayer that the life and death struggle, which the British Empire is now waging,
will soon be concluded
victoriously and that an era of justice will henceforth reign on this earth.
RABBI ISAAC HAFT.

The Aztec Mystery

By Murray Leinster

CHAPTER XX
HE STRUCK a match and lit a candle. The dancing flame steadied and threw a curious carnival glow about the interior of the strangely formed cave. Instantly, Janeta's eyes flickered to the two crumpled figures she had noted before. But Sonny had thrown a tarpaulin over them.

"Look here, m'am," he drawled "I've put up a tarpaulin for me, to get every Mexican and lowdown while man hunter! I got yuh take me to hell, but yuh tried I take me to jail. Yuh tried I take me to Little Cuyon. Today yuh tried I use the live my hawva has got for me to lead yuh posse of hired killers to where I was known! They'd no more dream of taking me to Moleville since then they'd dream of froya. An' now, without me planner if all yuh took up here with me. Yuh're kinda helpless, m'am, against me, an' I must get waped out by Garcia's gang even yet, on account of yuh. Now, m'am, why should I be considerin' you any longer?"

Janet stared at him. He was staring at her with the same cold smile on his face. "Why sh'd I be considerin' you any longer, m'am?" he asked solemnly. "You're kinda helpless, m'am, against me, an' I must get waped out by Garcia's gang even yet, on account of yuh. Now, m'am, why should I be considerin' you any longer?"

"You couldn't," she told him steadily. "You're forgetful, m'am," he cried fiercely. "I am helpless, m'am, you can do anything you please with me! But you can't make me turn over the tarpaulin. You can't make me marry you! You can't make me stop fighting you! Do you think I wouldn't have stopped before now if I could? Do you think I don't wish to be waped?"

"Go on, m'am," drawled Sonny. "You think," she asked more steadily, "that I don't love you?" "Do you think," he asked more steadily, "that I don't love you?"

"You think," she asked more steadily, "that I don't love you?" "Do you think," he asked more steadily, "that I don't love you?"
